DECEMBER 4, 1915.

Tucson Mining District Looking Up.

"Promising prospects" are the mining properties now being sought by big eastern interests, according to Frank Allison, local capitalist, who received a letter the present week from a New York mining agent asking for information about good prospects that are for sale.

The statement of Mr. Allison is verified by other local mining men, who state that in the revival of mining operations in southern Arizona one of the main features is the eagerness with which eastern capital is seeking out claims that give promise of profitable development for the future. This phase of the rejuvenation of mining operations is bringing much new capital into the Tucson district and is attractive to the mining man, who does not have the capital to develop or who does not care to go through the process of making a finished dividend payer out of a good claim.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill. I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.
